File Commo-4

Dear Stan:

Thank you very much for your letter of May 21, 1979, and your generous comments concerning our personnel and support of the Interagency Telephone Laboratory on behalf of the Intelligence Community.

All of us in the Community realize the importance of this work and the Bureau is pleased to be able to provide this service for the Community.

I share your concerns about telephone vulnerability and the need for additional research and development. In response to your stated emphasis on the need to increase responsibility and workload of the ITL, we will make every effort to continue our support to the ITL, commensurate with the increased requirements of the Intelligence Community.

Sincerely yours,

William H. Webster
Director
